

Behind every strong brand are outstanding products, a comprehensive range of services and committed employees

Motorex (www.motorex.com) is a successful, fast growing independent family company with headquarter in Switzerland. They develop and produce the well-known brand lubricants and distribute them in 82 countries around the world with a workforce of over 300 people. The company has pursued quality leadership in its products and associated services with unswerving continuity.

We are looking for a motivated, committed and innovative Specialist as

Department Manager Research & Development Metalworking Fluids

You will be entrusted with the following tasks:

- Formulate cutting oils and water-miscible cooling lubricants
- Development of operational plans and input into the formulation database (SAP)
- Create quality profiles for the corresponding products for the metalworking industry
- Providing data for the safety and technical data sheets
- Responsible for the scale-up process of the developed and existing products and contact with the manufacturing department
- Management of customer projects together with the sales department
- Professional technical training of internal and external partners
- Product sponsorship through support at the customers location
- Representation of development chemist in the metal processing area
- Product groups: Cutting and grinding oils and water-miscible coolants and development of alternatives to chlorinated products

We are looking for an active, open-minded, committed and motivated person with a chemical engineering degree and professional experience in the development of metalworking fluids and coolants. You are an enthusiastic chemist who is prepared to go the extra mile to develop new formulas that will succeed in the market and will help the customers. We can offer you an interesting job with responsibility in a middle-sized company with a very positive corporate culture, based in the middle of Switzerland.

MATTHIAS
BRÄGGER
MANAGEMENTBERATUNG

Are you interested? Please send your application by E-Mail to Matthias Brägger or call him for more information. He can assure you of full privacy, without your written agreement he will not pass any information about you to his client or to someone else.